ABOUT THE POSITION

GameSense Advisor
(Part Time)

Competition #: 19-115

Salary: $26.52 to $34.14 per hour

Closing Date: Tuesday, September 10, 2019

Position Location: Edmonton

JOB SUMMARY

Are you a passionate, engaging individual who is looking to make a difference? If so, then we have the job for you with our GameSense team!

As a GameSense Advisor (GSA) you would be located on the gaming floor in casinos and racing entertainment centers (RECs) in the Edmonton area to promote responsible gambling and make appropriate referrals to problem gambling services.

You will focus on building and maintaining positive relationships with casino management and staff to support AGLC's social responsibility mandate within the private operator gaming industry. You will also be responsible for fostering positive relationships with patrons and providing information and education to players to foster healthy gambling choices.

In this role, you will require strong communication and facilitation skills to provide information and responsible gambling program instruction in a gaming venue to adults with a variety of educational, linguistic and cultural backgrounds. In addition, you will need to be able to work with a high level of political sensitivity and confidentiality to be able to support players in making healthy gambling choices.

You will be working on your own away from the AGLC head office and on the gaming floor in a casino environment requiring you to be highly independent in scheduling your daily activities and balancing program administrative duties and deadlines while maintaining availability in your customer service role. Suicide Awareness is required for this position as you will be working with patrons and staff in gaming venues who may be experiencing effects of problem gambling and may need support and referral to the appropriate supports. You must also be available for training in other Alberta locations up to 3 times a year for up to 4 consecutive days.
